Chair Activities:

- Follett Library Resources has offered $500 on an annual basis to be used as a stipend for an award tied to school library programs. Nomination criteria have been gathered from a variety of sources. It is noted that many states around us have awards for the librarian and/or school administrator of the year; not many have a library program of the year. AASL's national award criteria will be helpful.

- Conference 2005 contacts follow.

Anne Abrams will put together a media relations panel for librarians on how to deal with the media. The panel will include personnel from TV, newspaper and radio.

Jan Findley, Follett Software Co.'s regional representative, has been contacted to offer a users presentation.

Bob Berkowitz has been contacted for 1-2 sessions on introducing the Big6 Information Problem Solving Process and applying it in the library and classroom.

Norma Jean Sprouffske will lead the Ed Media Division meeting.

I'm still looking for a roundtable facilitator for a session tentatively titled, Strong Libraries, Strong Scores. The discussion will center on integration of information literacy skills with student learning in the classroom, collaboration and a sharing of resources & experience's from the participant's library programs.
